Comment:

- a. The SCHÖNEFELD radio station, the former overseas radio station of German postal service, is a large installation equipped with beam antennas for long and short wave transmission. Other reports called it "BSELITZ Radio Reception Station."
- b. The BSELITZ radio station is under the POTSDAM postal directorate. Direct radio connection between SCHÖNEFELD and SOFIA is said to have been established in mid-May 1949. Measuring, frequency monitoring, interception of radio stations and radio direction finding are allegedly conducted.
- c. It is possible that political and propaganda broadcasts are also transmitted to Europe and overseas.
